The Manchester Council in called sion last night granted the Scaboard Air sion last night granted the Seaboard Air-Line Railway the right to construct a spur track along Stockton Street to Fourth into the property upon which it is proposed by Woodward & Sen, of Rich-mond, to establish a lumber yard. The petition for the franchise was presented to the body a few months ago and met with strong opposition by the property-holders in that section of the city, who were represented in the Council by Mr. Wakefield.

M. Woodward was present and made a short talk to the body. He dwelt carnestly on the fact that this part of the carnesty on the late that that have the chief manufacturing center. Mr. Wakefield was, as before, loyal to his people, and asked the Council not to grant the francisse..

Mr. L. M. Nunnally moved that the ordi-

Messrs. Lum, Gallagher, White, and Stringer were appointed to meet the speakers and prepare everything. The meeting was the most interesting one the body has yet held. NEW CARS RECEIVED.

The Richmond Passenger and Power Company has sent new cars over for the Perry-Street line. This is very gratifying to the patrons of the road, and they eagerly look forward to the early laying of new track down Perry Street. The cars are of the very latest model and design, and will carry as many passengers as the cars on Main Street in Richmond. The new rails, which have been ordered and which will be put on Perry Street in a few weeks, will make this as good a line as any of the company. Mr. C. B. Buchanan, the superintendent of this division, is to be commended for his work in behalf of putting the line in a good condition.

BOYS ON CARS.

Several complaints have been made to the police department against the small boys riding on the cars. Every evening when the cars are crowded a lot of boys congregate on the corner of Seventh and Hull and swing on the car while in motion, and ride about one square and jump off. This is very dangerous, and the police have taken the matter in hand, and will make an example of some of them in a day or so.

MOTHER HUBBARD.

The entertainment at Leader Hall last night was a decided success from evry standpoint. The ladies in red are giving the ladies in white a hard fight for supremacy. The ladies in white have a little advantage of those in red by having "Lady Bountiful" on their side. This continues to attract attention, and many are the young men who place five cents continues to attract attention, and many are the young men who place five cents in her palm and receive from the folds of her sleeve a present, some of which are extremely ludicrous. To-merrow night a "Perplexing Situation" will be presented. Owing to the illness of Miss Munile Jones, who is one of the chief characters in several of the entertainments, the programme had to be changed last night.

Mr. E. B. Thaw, who has just returned to Manchester, said to a These reporter yesterday that he felt that the article in The Times referring to a case of diph-theria in his family was open to a mis construction.

AMUSEMENIS.

The revival of Shakespeare's "King Henry VIII," which was witnessed by a large audience at the Academy last night, was notable for many excellencies. It was a very handsome and cloborate production. The scenery and costumes were in excellent taste, and the support of the co-stars was much better than that of the co-stars was much better than that of most Ehakspearean players. Louis James has played the part of Cardinal Wolsey before, but his impersonation is new to the majority of play-goers of the present day. The dignity of the role is best attested by the fact that John Philip Kemble, Charles Kemble, and Macready, made "Henry VIII" a prominent feature of their repertories. The mighty prida of their repertories. The mighty pride of the Cardinal in the earlier scenes, and the 'child-like simplicity' at the end were portrayed with fidelity and truth. And over all was a dignity and repose that made his delineation of the charactrant made his defineation of the character most impressive. His sonorous, vibrant and mellow voice was splendidly adapted to the elocutionary lines of this role. Madame Modjeska was equally successful as Queen Katherine. She was throughout the dignified Queen, pure and noble, supporting her sorrows with martyr-like resignation. Norman Hack-ett as the King, T. C. Cooke as Buckingham, and Woodsworth Harris as Nor-fork, were about the best of the support. Ophie James was a charming picture as Annie Bullen. There was a large and
